(Excellent Materials!!! A Must!)

(It is necessary to say that I, David Bennett, and my wife, Vicki, do not agree with everything that is in all of these books or on the tapes. However, we do believe that these are some of the best resources available to Christian parents today. Since the training of our children is one of the most important areas of the Christian walk and witness it is vital that we do all we can to practice Biblical principles. Notice: This list of materials is not written in any certain order. We recommend items 1 & 12 equally. We trust you will not be disappointed with these resources as a whole. God bless you as you seek to train up your children in God's divine ways.)
